publican caucus committee, appointed to arrange r making some changes in the republican mem sion at the capitol to-day, and completed a plan of readjustment, which will be reported to the caucu at its next meeting. The most important change decided upon was the substitution of Windom Edieunds as chairman foreign relations committee, Mr. Edmunds, who is also at the head of the judiciary committee, having consented to withdraw from the former committee, so that Senator Windom may b placed at the head. Senators Sherman and Allison are still to retain their positions on the finance com Senator McMillan, who is now at the head of both the committee on commerce and the committee on the revision of laws, will relinquish the chairmanship of the latter committee in favo interview with President Arthur, the purpose of which was to urge the president to make a visit to the exposition at Atlanta. The president spoke in terms of sympathy for the progressive spirit of the as manifested at the exposition, and exvenient with reference to other duties. He is to give Senator Brown a decisive answer on Monday next, and the Georgia people here are very hopeful that it will be in the affirmative.

Senator Hill has been requested to accompan Secretary Plaine spon the latter's visit to the expo sition, and intimates that he will possibly do so, in the event that he finds himself able to return home at all during the recess. Should be become the copanion of Mr. Blaine upon this trip he will also entertain him at the senator's hospitable residence on Peachtree street. This would form a notable episode in the reunions of the great exposition. General Gordon has passed through en route to

In and Around the Capitol.

Washington, December's.—[Special Correspondence,]—Congress is beginning its work deliberately The house has taken a rest until Friday, and wil then meet simply to adjourn to next Tuesday There are good excuses for this tardiness in begin is complicated. After the committees are appointed there will not be much else of importance until the holidays are past. When the well-matched powers meet in January will really begin the session from which great results may come. In the house there was some talk over the contested seat from Utah. It was constantly coming up last session, and can now be classed among the national bores.

fully after they had sumbered for three-guarters of a century. I believe he is interested in this claim also,
Besides this, he has some claims here for several Indian tribes with fair chances of recovering a pittance of the debt due that abused people.

Another bill introduced by Senator Brown provides for the payment to certain southern railroads of considerable sums justly due because when they purchased cars and locomotives from the government at the closs of the war high prices were paid for worthless property. Several of the Georgia roads, the Central, the Georgia and the West Point I think, will come in for benefit under this act. Similar to the claims under this bill was that which General Gordon pushed through for overcharges to the State road and that netted the state about 80, 600.

the State road and that netted the state about $80,3000.

By request Senator Brown has introduced a bill to pay Mr. Dillon, of New York, for certain services done by his steamboats to the government in Georgia waters soon after the war.

Among the many office-seekers now turning their attention to Washington, either personally or by appeals to friends here for help. Georgia has a numerous representation. Sometime ago General Longstreet was placed at the head of the list as a probable cabinet officer. He was freely spoken of as the coming secretary of the navy, but the sensation has recently lulled. Mr. Hunt will probably have to go, but as to the succession there are few guesses. I do not know that General Longstreet made any effort for the high place with which his name was connected, but he came up here at a time when plans were maturing, and you know gossip is very free with great men.

Coming to the less eminent Georgians we find J. Wise Parker after the associate judgship of the supreme court of Wyoming. Colonel Jack Brown is solid with the new organization of the house. There are a dozen or more Georgia postofices over which the conflict has begun. The most important of these are at Griffin and Athens. The incumbents at both places seem to be secure as yet. In some of the smaller places where the salary is hardly enough for salt, the entire population appears to be stricken with political ambition and ready to sell stamps for the country.

As the session progresses there will be an increase of applicants for all places, high and low. The ne groes have their usual delegation here asking for consideration in a state where they constitute the bulk and back bone of the republican party, but so far their only reward has been in sweet words and delusive promises. The average colored politician in Georgia carries a wonderful supply of credulity and patience but both seem to be getting pretty low.

that the administration is holding out re

Now that the administration is holding out rewards to new leaders in the south it is probable that ambitious white trafficers in politics will step in to crowd the poor colored voter still further into the rear. The gentlemen who are perfecting plans to split the solid south count on the negro as safe under any emergency, and are training the artelery of their kindness upon those white men who are willing to champion the new cause.

Mr. Blaine cannot yet fix the day on which he will visit the exposition, because it is not known how soon he will be relieved of the port folio he is anxious to turn over. The nomination of the new secretary is looked for every day and may be made before these words are in print.

Among the new arrivals is Lewis, of Virginia, lieutenant governor elect. It was probably he who really carried the fusion ticket through. It is estimated that not more than 25,000 white votes were cast for the ticket. Lewis organized the negroes almost solidly, controlled nearly all the republican was a stronger candidate than Cameron. The republicans are already praying for the senstorship from the captured state, Riddleberger's title is not as clear as it was soon after the victory. He is between the Scylla of Cameron's enspirited ambition and the Charybdis of republican greed. He used to allude to himself on the study as "poor Harry Riddleberger" and before long it may be that his assumed humility will be converted to real pathos.

Mahone is going dow to try and "readjust" the healthes between the longs of his army now quarreiling over the spoils of their common victory. As he has about all he can get for himself he will not be able to play the role of the arbiter who ate the oyster and presented the halves of the shell to each of those who claimed it. In spite of Mahone's aid, the waters are likely to remain troubled. The aunouncement of David Davis that he did not think the present officers of the senate ought to be disturbed has quieted the apprehensions of a good number-of democrats now enjoying those desirable places. He also said, however, that he would not vote for any objectionable man, meaning clearly that Mr. Washington, the democratic nominee for sceretary, shall not be elected. For some reason he has a strong dislike to Washington. Chief Clerk Shober is now acting as secretary. The fastidious poise of Judge Davis's politics may keep him in that position.

The mention of Davis brings to mind his illustrious colleague, John Logon, who is said to have aspirations for the republican nomination for 1881, backed by some strong western influences. His election might not disturb the country, but his inaugural, if original and accepted as the highest authority of expression, would work a revolution in English grammar.

President Arthur wants to come to Atlanta during the holidays, and the chances are that he will do so. Judge Woods has been trying to get the supreme court to accept the invitation extended to them to visit the exposition. It is probable that several of the judges and a number of members of congress will come soon after the recess is taken. Mr. Blaine may be counted on as one of the certain attractions. He has long desired to go south to learn more of its people and its condition. Various assurances have reached him that he will have a cordial reception in Atlanta. There is much talk of the exposition here. The northern people who have been down to see it invariably have brought back good reports. I have heard Atlanta's horn blown quite musically of late, and not by Atlanta people, either.

Topeka, Kansas, December 9.—Great frauds on the Auchison, Topeka and Santa Fernilroad have just been discovered. They consist of a combination among the bosses, section men, boarding house keepers and others along the entire road, by which sections of fictitious names were carried on the pay roll. It is supposed that 200 men have been engaged in the swindle and from one to two hundred thousand dollars stolen. Eighteen men have been arrosted and placed in jail. The list included 30 prominent and rich men. Attachments to the amount of $80,000 have been issued and a large amount of property levied on.

Dr. Kemp J. Battle, president of the university of North Carolina, paid The Constitution a pleasant visit on yesterday. While in our sanctum some one complained that the young men of the present day had too little reverence for old things, and said that he doubted if there were a dozen of them who knew anything of the resolutions of '98 or cared what they were. Dr. Battle laughingly said:

"I do not find in this lack of devotion to things that are gone, anything to condemn. While they should be thoughtful of the past, their duty lies with the future, and nothing should relax the energies with which they must grapple with the things that they encounter. When I see the young men of the present day and hear them chieded for their irreverence for old things. I think of a young man whose father died at an advanced age very suddenly. The post mortem examination was to be held and he insisted on holding the candle and watching the operation. When a section of breast-bone was removed, he said: "Gracious! didn't the old man have a lot of things in him." It is with much the same spirit that many of our young men look on things that older folks are apt to consider with more reverence."

Alluding to Dr. A. J. Battle, of this state, he said: stage and the auditorium appears to have fied at the first alarm.

Ten thousand florins were subscribed on the bourse this morning in aid of the families of the victims of the fire, who are probably far more numerous than was at first supposed.

As to his reputation in Atlanta I know nothing, but on his coming to the company I was applied to by a number of the employes of the Western and Atlantic railroad, men of character and standing, and his old comrades in the army, and urged not to chain him but to use him as a train hand. Some of the best men on the Western and Atlantic railroad, who had worked with him for years veuched for him, and represented him as a honorable and a faithful good train hand—his fault or misfortune being that he would sometimes drink and under the influence of whisky if insulted would fight, but that they had confidence that he would not drink. It is true that the city is crowded so far as the hotels and boarding houses are concerned, but the people of Atlanta have become enthusiastic over this matter and have thrown open their doors and extend a cordial greeting and comfortable quarters with good fare to all who are unable secure accommodations at the hotels. This, too, at figures that are simply lower than one could ever have dreamed of. Yesterday a reporter of The Constitution visited a number of private houses and asked after the accommodations and prices. The prices ranged from a dollar and a half to two and a half. The great majority were a dollar and a half. One man said, "You may send me forty and I will take care of them in good style at a dollar and a half a day." This was at a house where the reporter expected to hear $2.50 mentioned as

A Reporter's Ride

ON AN ENGINE AT THE EXPOSITION.
Yesterday a Constitution reporter stood close beside one of the traction engines as it steamed up on the race track at the exposition grounds, and admired its gracefulness. Everything was as neat and as exact as a pin. The very smoke from the stack seemed to refuse to deposit soot and dust over the engine. The reporter was struck with the beauty of the engine and wondered if it was as perfect in its workings as it was in appearance. He was not long in doubt. A courteous gentleman who was in charge told the seribe to "hop on." The engineer caught up the throttle and in an instant the beautiful "Peerless" was speeding around the race track like a race. The crowds turned to watch the engine as it sped over the ground like a thing of life, mounting obstacles with the ease and grace that told of an immense reserve power. When the circuit was made the engine was coupled to a large and heavy thresher, and the trip again commenced, this time with probably thirty men as passengers. The engine moved with the same speed of the first trip and did not slacken in the slightest on account of the additional load. The engine, with the load of enthusiastic pussengers, went round and round the track and received salutes of approval from fully five hundred popple who were watching the traction engines at work. It ran backward, forward and turned easily and quickly. This Peerless engine is indeed peerless, It secured the five hundred dollar gold premium at the Cincinnati industrial exhibition a few weeks ago after a severe test of five hours. The award of the jury was as follows:

"The undersigned, jurors in the above entitled class, having carefully examined the exhibit made by the Geiser manufacturing company, Waynesboro, Pa., and all other exhibits competing for the same premium, concur in recommending the award of a premium, concur in recommending the award of a premium of five hundred dollars, flowing the superior excellence of the product in the following perticulars, namely:

the exposition devoted to the display of carriages, buggles and wagons and several of the most noted firms of the country have their best goods on exhibition. Among them all, however, there is none that surpasses in excellence of workmanship, material and durability than the work of our deserving townsman, Mr. John M. Smith Mr. Smith has been manufacturing carriages in Atlanta for years, and his work has stood the test of hard service. It has come to be a proverb that Smith's carriages are always worth all that shows on the face, Every inch of material that goes into them, whether wood or iron, is selected from the very best, under the personal superviston of Mr. Smith, and he is therefore prepared to guarantee, as he does, that everything will wear sning and firm. It must not be understood, however, that he suffers anything of elegance of appearance to deteriorate his work or effect the durability, having for years been in the business, and knowing every detail, from the first to the last, he has managed to combine finish with strength and durability with ineness of appearance. His carriages, therefore, rival in general style the best of the carriages that are made altogether for show, and at the same time have the strength and durability of the heaviest old English carriages. Mr. Smith has on exhibition at the hall some of the best samples of his work, and they excite favorable comments from the impartial crowds. He has samples that cover all points in carriage making and surpasses in his exhibition, in our opinion, work with which he has always taken the first premium at southern fairs and with which he captured the grand gold medal of the north Georgia fair three years ago against all competitors. He has never done better work than that which he now has on exhibition and his carriages do as much as anything else, if not more to illustrate Georgia handsomely in this greatest display ever made of American industries. If nevery department Georgia handsomely in this greatest display ever made of American indust the exposition devoted to the display of carriages buggies and wagons and several of the most noted

The fruits of the exposition are already beginning to ripen. I find northern capitalists scarching in the real estate offices for places to invest. Large and small tracts are being negotiated for daily. Inquiries are swiftly increasing. This is true of agriculture, timber and mining grounds.

Culture, timber and mining grounds.

Correspondence of H. H. J.

The Atlanta cotton exposition is daily bringing the business of the north, south, east and west closer together than they have ever before been, and good results must necessarily follow. Their experience in regard to each other will doubtless be much the same as that of the country girl who said to one of her admirers, "The more I knows you the better I gets acquainted with you."

Knowylle Chronicles Knoxville Chronicle.

Some persons have been inclined to complain at Commissioner A. W. Hawkins because Tennessee did not have a more creditable exhibit at the Atlanta exposition. This is wrong. Commissioner Hawkins is no more to blame for Tennessee's scarty exhibit at Atlanta than any other citizen of the state. If he had had the means placed at his disposal for organizing a proper exhibit of the resources of Tennessee at Atlanta, it would have been done. But such things cannot be done without money. He did not have a dollar that could have been used for that purpose, that could have been used without neglecting other things that are necessary to be done, and had he spent every dollar at his disposal for the year, in arranging for an exhis disposal for the year, in arranging for an eibit at Atlanta, it would have been insufficient.

New York Sun. Before the war the bulk of the crop was raised by

Before the war the bulk of the crop was raised by slave labor and on large plantations, the large producing states being Louisland, Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia. Now a very large proportion is raised by white labor, and mostly on small farms owned or rented by whites. The change has increased greatly the probabilities of a larger yield. Two decades ago only a certain amount of labor was expended on the growing crop. Now, however, each planters's acreage to cotion is usually under his own supervision. The change has also tended to the introduction of improved farm implements, and especially to the introduction of fertilizers. The last named element has ladd a notable effect. By the means of artificial manures, the center of the largest production has been tarnsferred from the lower gulf states to the uplands and hills of Georgia, South and North Carolina, and Tennessee. Previously the extensive growth of the plant in the latter regions was unknown."

The interview which we publish to day with Mr. William D. Mcadwell, agent of the Indian Head mills, of this city, undoubtedly presents a true view of southern manufacturing. As he conclusively shows, cotton manufacturing at the south is a success thangh it has some drawhacks and always.

of southern manufacturing, at he south is a success, though it has some drawbacks and always will have, as will almost any business anywhere. In view of the well known fact that for the last three years some sixty mills at the south have averaged 14 prr cent net carnings.

In this there is no cause for looking with jaundiced eyes at the south. As Mr. Cadwell broadly says, there is room enough for us all. Our increasing population more than keeps ahead of our increasing manufactures. Then there is the foreign market, hardly yet entered by Americans, though the Indian Head, Nashua and other mills have obtained a good foothold in China. The tendency to the manufacture of finer goods here at the North, not only in cotton but in everything else, will long give us the advantage which comes from skill and experience. As this will give us the supremacy in manufacturing, we can afford to regard in the spirit of generous rivalry both the south and west, though the latter is making enormous strides in manufacturing. With such energetic and enterprising competitors New England must put its best foot forward, and that is what it ought to do or fall to the rear gracefully and uncomplainingly.

to the rear gracefully and uncomplainingly.

Correspondence Raleigh News.

North Carolina. as has been frequently stated, has two distinct representative exhibits—one in the department of the Richmond and Danville railroad company, and another under the supervision of the department of agriculture. These are near together, and while distinct, their proximity serves to secure for North Carolina an extended notice. Professor Smith, who is in charge, says in talking that the North Carolina exhibits embrace a larger variety of valuable iron ores than any other one state represented in the exposition. They are shown in ample volume to insure their commercial importance. Of copper ores and mine products, in the shape of charcoal refined copper ingots and plates, North Carolina makes a show altogether unique and unsurpassed by any other show of copper or copper ores upon the boards. In chrome ores, manganese, nickel, silver and gold ores, she has a monopoly, except, perhaps, in the gold ores of northeast teorigia. But the great area embraced in the gold producing region of North Carolina is greater than any other of the southern states. There is a very large exhibit of these ores in the Richmond and Danville railroad department, ranging in their assay value from five dollars to five hundred and six dollars of gold per ton. There is a broad and comprehensive field in this gold belt of North Carolina for practical examination and investment. In corundum and mica and bright tobacco, she carries off the palm. Indeed, in mica and corundum she is the only state that furnishes these articles for commercial uses, and the increasing demand for them must lead to a more thorough examination of the deposits and a better system of mining them.

THE COTTON MARKET

CONSTITUTION OFFICE, Atlanta, December 9, 1881.

New York—The cotton market during the past wee has been quiet and steady and business as compared with last week, shows a moderate falling off. Du ing the early part of the week prices were sustained but toward the middle the strength of the marke failed to some extent, and throughout the remain der of the week the tendency was generally of a downward nature. At the opening this morning the state of the market indicated no improvement and a further decline prevailed up to noon. In the afternoon the tone braced up considerable, and the advance which followed placed quotations considerably higher by the close. This reaction of the market almost recovered the losses sustained during the weck, and at the close to-day the general ap-pearance of the market seemed much improved The spot market has likewise shown some weaknes to-day declined 1-16c, making middling

IMPORTANT to Grocers, Packers, Huck-sters, and the General Public. THE KING FORTUNE-MAKER:

A New Process for Preserving all Perishable Articles, Animal and Vegetable, from Fermentation and Putrefaction, retaining their Odor and Flavor. OZONE-Purified air, active state of oxygen."-WEBSTER

This Preservative is not a liquid, pickle, or any of the old and exploded processes, but is simply and purely OZONE, as produced and applied by an entirely new process. Ozone is the antiseptic principle of every substance, and possesses the power to preserves. Ozone is the antiseptic principle of every substance, and possesses the power to preserve an animal and vegetable structures. SPOIL WHICH OZONE THE NEW PRESERVATIVE, WILL NOT PRESERVE FOR ALL TIME IN A PERFECTLY FRESH AND PALATABLE CONDITION.

The value of OZONE as a natural preserver has been known to our able chemists for years, but until now no means of producing it in a practical, inexpensive, and simple manner have been discovered. Microscopic observations prove that decay is due to septic matter, or minute germs that develop and feed upon animal and vegetable structures. OZONE, applied by the Prentiss method, seizes and destroys these germs at once, and thus preserves. At our offices in Cincinnati can be seen almost every article that can be thought of preserved by this process, and every visitor is welcome to come in, taste, smell, take away with him, and test in every way the merits of OZONE as a preservative. We will also preserve, fee of charge, any article that is brought or seth prepaid to us, and return it to the sender, for him to keep and test.

EGGS can be treated at a cost of less than one dollar a thousand dozen, and be kept in an ordinary the eggs as fresh and perfect as on the day they were treated, and will sell as strictly "choice," The advantage in preserving eggs is readily seen; there are seasons when they can be bought for 8 or 10 cents a dozen, and by holding them can be sold for an advance of from one hundred to three hundred per cent. One man with this process can preserve 5.000 dozen per day.

FRUITS may be permitted to ripen in their native climate, and can be transported to any part without fermentation—hence the great value of this process for producing a temperance beverage Milk and cider can be held perfectly sweet any l

FRESH MEATS, such as beef, mutton, veal, 'pork, poultry, game, fish, etc., preserved changes, and return to this country in a state of perfect preservation.

BUTTER AFTER BEING TREATED BY THIS PROCESS WILL NOT BECOME RANCID. Dead human bodies, treated before decomposition sets in can be held in a natural condition for weeks without puncturing the skin or mutilating the body in any way. Hence the great value of Ozon without puncturing the skin or mutilating the body in any way. Hence the great value of ozone to undertakers.

There is no change in the slightest particular in the appearance of any article thus preserved, and no trace of any foreign or unnatural odor or taste.

The process is so simple that a child can operate it as well and as successfully as a man. There is no expensive apparatus or machinery required.

A room filled with different articles, such as eggs, meat, fish, etc., can be treated at one time, without additional trouble or expense. A room filled with different articles, such as eggs, meat, fish, etc., can be treated at one time, without additional trouble or expense.

BeIN FACT, THERE IS NOTHING THAT OZONE WILL NOT PRESERVE. Think of everything you can that is liable to sour, decay, or spoil, and then remember that we quarantee that Ozone will preserve it in exactly the condition you want it for any length of time. If you will remember this, it will save asking questions as to whether Ozone will preserve this or that article—IT WILL PRESERVE ANY THING AND EVERY THING YOU CAN THINK OF.

There is not a township in the United States in which a live man cannot make any amount of money, from $1,000 to $10,000 a year that he pleases. We desire to get a live man interested in each county in the United States, in whose hands we can place this Preservative, and through him secure the business which every county ought to produce.

A FORTUNE awaits any man who secures control of OZONE in any Township or County

A. C. Bowen, Marion, Ohio, cleared $2.000 in two months. $2 for a test package was his first investment. Woods Brothers, Lebanon, Warren County, Ohio, made $6,000 on eggs purchased in July and sold November 1st. $2 for a test package was their first investment.

F. K. Raymond, Morristown, Belmont County, Ohio, is clearing $2,000 a month in handling and selling Ozone. $2 for a test package was his first investment.

D. F. Webber, Charlotte, Eaton County, Mich., has cleared $1,000 a month since August. $2 for a test

D. F. Webber, Charlotte, Eaton County, Mich., has cleared $1,000 a month since August. $2 for a test package was his first investment.

J. B. Gaylord, 80 Lasallie Street, Chicago, is preserving eggs, fruit, etc., for the commission men of Chicago, charding 15cc, per dozen for eggs, and other articles in proportion. He is preserving 5,000 dozen eggs a day, and on his business is making $3,000 a month clear. $2 for a test package was his first investment.

The Cincinnati Feed Company, 498 West Seventh Street, is making $5,000 a month in handling brewers' malt, preserving and shipping it as feed to all parts of the country. Malt unpreserved sours in twenty-four hours. Preserved by OZONE it keeps perfectly sweet for months.

These are instances which we have asked the privilege of publishing. There are scores of others. Write to any of the above parties and get the evidence direct.

Now, to prove the absolute truth of everything we have said in this paper. WE PROPOSE TO PLACE ow the to any or the absolute truth of everything we have said in this paper. WE PROPOSE TO PLACE IN YOUR HANDS THE MEANS OF PROVING FOR YOURSELF THAT WE HAVE NOT CLAIMED HALF ENOUGH. To any person who doubts any of these statements, and who is interested sufficiently to make the trip, we will pay all traveling and hotel expenses for a visit to this city, if we fail to prove any statement that we have made.

HOW TO SECURE A OZON

A test package of Ozone, containing a sufficient quantity to preserve one thousand dozen eggs, or other articles in proportion, will be sent to any applicant on receipt of $2. This package will enable the applicant to pursue any line of tests and experiments, edges, and thus satisfy himself as to the extraordinary merits of Ozone as a Freservative. After having thus satisfied himself, and had time to look the field over to determine what he wishes to do in the future—whether to sell the article to others, or to confine it to his own use, or any other line of policy which is best suited to him and to his township or county—we will enter into an arrangement with him that will make a fortune for him and give us good profits. We will give exclusive township or county privileges to the first responsible applicant who orders a test package and desires to control the business in his locality. THE MAN WHO SECURES CONTROL OF OZONE FOR ANY SPECIAL TERRITORY WILL ENJOY A MONOPOLY WHICH WILL SURELEY ENRICH HIM.

Don't let a day pass until you have ordered a Test Package, and if you desire to secure an exclusive privilege, we assure you that delay may deprive yeu of it, for the applications come in to us by scores every mail—many by telegraph. "First come first served" is our rule.

If you do not care to send money in advance for the test package, we will send it. O. D.; but this will put you to the expense of charges for return of money. Our correspondence is very large; we have all we can do to attend to the shipping of orders and giving attention to our working agents. Therefore we can give no attention to letters that do not order Ozone. If you think of any article that you are doubtful about Ozone preserving, remember we GUARANTEE THAE IT WILL PRESEVER IT, NO MATTER WHAT IT IS.

LATER details from Vienna show the theatrical holocaust to be even worse than at first reported. Over four hundred human roasts have already been taken from the debris, and many more are yet to be taken out. The fearful responsibility for such accidents rests upon the public authorities, who permit the erection of traps with insufficient exit, where such disasters are likely to occur at any time. In all our theatres, churches and public buildings, such accidents are always probable, and yet none of them are provided with sufficient means of egress, where it is neces sary to clear the building instantly.

JOHN W. FORNEY died at his home in Philadelphia, vesterday morning. He was born in Lancaster, Pa., in 1817. He entered journalism in 1835, as a democrat. In 1845 he edited the "Pennsylvanian," a leading democratic organ, published in Philadelphia. He was clerk of the federal house of representatives in 1852-5, and supported Buchanan for the presidency in 1856. In 1857 he established the Philadelphia Press, and in the presidential election following supported the candidacy of Mr. Douglass for the presidency. He was chosen clerk of the house of repre sentatives in 1859. In 1860 he left the democratic party and joined the republicans. He ecretary of the United States senate in 1861, and retired from that office in 1868. He then made an extensive tour abroad. His last public appearance was as the author of a life of General Hancock, whom he supported for the presidency. He was a man of versatile talents and weak convictions.

THE EXPOSITION AT NIGHT.

Why cannot the managers of the exposition open the grounds at night?

We have had repeated inquiries on this subject from mechanics, clerks and others who cannot take time to attend the great show during the day. The machine shops are all running on full time and are pressed to fill orders; the stores are crowded with customers. and the merchants can neither afford to stop off themselves or let their clerks go for even a half day, and yet they are all anxious to study the exposition and its wonders. They have certain rights in the matter as cicizens of Atlanta.

There are thousands of visitors who come to Atlanta on excursions and have only a day or two to stay. Many of them, country merchants who desire to fill their stock, and ladies who wish to do their shopping, cannot spare a day from business, hence see the exposition only scantily or not at all. There are many more who pay it only one visit, but would be glad to go oftener if it were

With the exposition grounds open at night all these people could be accommodated. The merchants, clerks, mechanics, business men and visitors who cannot spare daylight would certainly take advantage of the night sessions. The Boston Institute fair tried the night plan with the greatest success. The centennial received a large percentage of its receipts from night tickets. We have only about three weeks of our exposition left. Is it not best to make the time six weeks by opening the grounds at night? What says Mr. Kimball and the committee?

THE PRODUCTION OF IRON ORE.

One of the latest bulletins of the census burean relates to the production of iron ore in the United States during the year ending June 1, 1880. The bulletin in question was prepared by Mr. Raphael Pumpelly, special agent and admitted expert. The facts stated refer to the mining business only, and are not complicated in any way with the statistics of iron manufacture.

In the country there were, in 1880, 805 establishments that roduced in the cer year 7,971,706 tons. Pennsylvania leads off with 2,185,675 tons; Michigan comes next, 1,834,712 tons; New York, 1,262,127 tons; New lersey, 757,372 tons; Oho, 547,303 tons; Mis-386,197 tons; Alabama, 191,676 tons; Virginia, 182,326 tons; Maryland, 139,628 tons; Tennessee, 104,465 tons, and Georgia next with a production of 91,416 tons from seven establishments. Kentucky, Massachusetts and West Virginia are next below Georgia.

The iron ore of the seven Georgia mines was worth $143,000, of which amount $108,796 was paid out as wages to 342 employes. The amount of working capital employed was only $35,790. These figures demonstrate that the vast beds of iron ore in the state have scarcely been opened, much less developed. The edges have been scratched in three counties, but the great body of ore is as ignorant of the blast-or pickaxe as it was a thousand years ago. The largest mine of the state rielded 44,225 tons, and the average product of the seven mines was 10,386 tons. The av rage price of a ton of ore at the mine in Geor gia was $1.66, against $2.37 in Pennsylvania, $3.39 in Michigan, $1.44 in Tennessee, and $1.03 in Alabama. The average price of a on in the country was $2.90. The ton of 2,000 pounds is used in the census tables. It is but just to state that the price of ore in some of the southern states re to their furnaces at cost. Georgia is now the eleventh state, and in 1870 a list of sixteen states did not afford her nention. Virginia has gained four places, Maryland and Tennessee have lost two, Massachusetts four and Kentucky one. The great iron county of the country is Marquette, in Michigan, its yearly product being 1,374,812 tons. Essex county, in New York, is second. The product of the Cornwall ore bank in Lebanon county, Pennsylvania, was 280,000 tons, placing it at the head of the list of establish-

We have so few politicians who ever look at a book that it is considered astonishing that this old gentleman should have a little vanity about his beautiful library and wish to give it a good housing before he died. Politicians may be surprised to hear that there are several thousand people in this country who would rather have Mr. Tilden's library than the presidency, and would be prouder to exhibit it to intelligent people than to be the lonely captain of the old white house and its scandals. There are many noble libraries in New York, but Mr. Tilden has been collecting his books so many years that he has far the start of the new amateurs, however lavish with their money.

Twenty years ago the republican party declared that it would wipe out this national disgrace which with slavery, it designated the twin sister of barbarism. Has it done so? On the contrary the party sits quietly by and sees the organization deliberately dely and set at defiance the laws. There is another, favorable, concentrally to make good the another favorable opportunity to make good the promise. The whole country will sustain the ef-fort of the administration in the right direction, and for the sake of common decency it is to be hoped that this opportunity will not be suffered to pass by without at least an effort.

We are not prepared to give the Kansas plan of dealing with derelict bank officers our full approval, and yet if it would make defalcations and general abuse of trusts as scarce here as a similar remedy has made them in China. it could not be said to be entirely devoid of plausible arguments in its favor. At the same time we think the whipping post would be better than the halter for offenses of such a character.

The message of the president is long, and beto-ens thorough study and acquaintance with the annd of public duty. It is in all parts a thorough siness paper, dealing but little in platitudes or natiment, driving in a straightforward, clear man-reat therein.

It is emphatically a hard money document, and this feature will draw out a wider discussion than any other part of the message. It is entirely free from any flavor of "stalwartism," or partisanship of any kind, and, in

Mr. Arthur has been so unexpectedly and suddenly called upon to fill.

The message, as a whole, is sensible, clear and business-like. In the main, the recommendations which are made deserve the favorable consideration of congress. Not once does the president sound a sectional note. So far as the words of the message go, there is no north and no south, no republican party or democratic party or greenback party. It is one country, and we are all Americans. But what will the president do where actions speak loudest."

The message takes range and touches on every topic of public publicy in which the people of the country are supposed to be interested. It shows evidence of study, is well, and carefully written, and avoids giving offense to any particular class or section, in marked contrast to the messages of some of Mr. Arthur's predecessors. On the whole, while there are doubtless portions of it which will not meet with the indorsement of a large body of the people who think differently, it may be regarded, we think, as an able and creditable state paper, which will repay perusal.

Savannah News.

In a word, this, his first message, will have a tendency to incline the people of the whole Union favorably towards the administration of Mr. Arthur. Let him, however, beware of the example of Grant, who so pretentiously said, "Let us have peace" at the very moment he was preparing to incite turmoil conflusion and lawlessness in the south; let Savannah News who so pretentiously said, "Let us have peace," at the very moment he was preparing to incite tur-moil, confusion and lawlessness in the south; let him prove his words by his deeds, and act fairly and impartially towards all sections, and let him sink the northern partisan in the president of the United States, and he will find his arms everywhere upheld, but by none with more cordiality and sin-cerity than by the southern people.

New Orleans Democrat. New Orleans Democrat.

The first thing that strikes the reader of this section of the country is the fact that there is not a word about the south in this message, whereas this section used formerly to take up a considerable portion of these presidential utterances. The south will probably be pleased at this omission, for "blessed are the people who have no history." It is said that President Arthur's views on the south are that the political affairs of this section have received too much public attention hitherto and had better be let alone. We are inclined to agree with him on this proposition. He might, it is true, have said something of the great development going on here, of the railroads building and the factories going up, but his ignoring the south is certainly preferable to Hayes's hypocritical lament over "the poor darkies," frightened or cheated out of their votes.

It is highly probable that the Atlanta courts will n a few days, have cognisance of a case that will furnish the newspapers food and that will test the extent of the powers of a coroner.

extent of the powers of a coroner.

As the readers of The Constitution know a dead body was found Wednesday night; in a trunk at the car-shed. The trunk, it will be remembered, was removed to the station house, where it was opened by the coroner and then, together with its contents, removed to chargile's undertaking rooms to await an investigation which was appointed for the next day, but which has not yet taken place because the body has not been found.

Soon after the body was deposited at Cargile's, as has been stated in a former edition, Dr. Thad Johnson, of the Southern medical college, went to Coroner Hilburn, and claiming the body as the property of the Southern medical college, demanded its possession, which demand was refused. He then offered the coroner every assurance that the body should be forthcoming when wanted if permitted to remove it to the college, but again was met with a refusal.

On Thursday morning when Coroner Hilburn intited Carrilla's for the provence of helding an investigation.

should be forthcoming when wanted if permitted to remove it to the college, but again was met with a refusal.

On Thursday morning when Coroner Hilburn visited Cargile's for the purpose of holding an inquest he was greatly surprised at finding that the body could not be produced, and this surprise was not in the lest diminished when the negro man who has charge of Cargile's business, informed the coroner that the body had been forcibly taken from the house during the night. He said, in response to the rigid inquiries of Mr. Hilburn, that about 12 o'clock he was awakened by some one pushing against the front door. The noise at first startled him, but finally he called to the parties outside and demanded to know what they wanted. About this time the door gave way and several persons entered the workshop, where the dead body was, and carried it away. Before leaving the room they informed him, so he stated to the coroner, that they were the doctors and that they wanted that dead body. He knew that the body was supposed to have been the property of the Southern Medical college and says that he thought the parties who came for it were connected with that institution.

After hearing this recital, and being satisfied that there was no necessity for an inquest, the coroner went to the Southern Medical college to get the check, a duplicate of which was attached to the trunk, but while there a demand was made upon him by the officials of the college for the body. At first Mr. Hillburn treated these demands as a joke for he felt thoroughy satisfied that the corpre had been taken from Cargile's by some one connected with the Southern medical college; but when Dr. Johnson assured him that the college knew nothing of the body, the case took another shape and aroused his energies. He inmediately returned to Cargile's, and after examining the door and its fastenings, became convinced that the door had not been fore-ed open as the man said. He then consulted a law-yer relative to obtaining search warrants for all the medical col ed open as the man sate. He there of such a sper relative to obtaining search warrants for all the medical colleges, but was told that, unless a relative of the deceased applied for the warrant, it could not be issued.

After imparting this intelligence to Dr. Johnson Mr.Hillburn was told that as he had taken the body from their possession it would be expected that he would see that it was returned. Again the coroner sought to find the body and for two days has been tirciessin his endeavors to find it.

Many persons who are acquainted with the facts of the case are of the opinion that the body was taken by the Southern medical college and that they deny it and make the demand simply to test the extent of the power of the coronerin such cases? Yesterday evening a Constitution of the truth. "No." said he, "I do not know where the body is: I wish I did. It belongs to us and we ought to have it. I tell you this is an outrage and some one shall pay for it. The parties who took that body are just as much thieves as the person who steals your hat. I have said, and I say again most positively, that that body is not, neither has it ever been, in our college. I don't believe Carglie's was broken open, and I think the body can be found in one of the other two medical colleges of Atlanta. In fact I know it can, and will prove it to you. I believe that the man who stays at Carglie's sold that body to one of the colleges, and if I can establish that fact I will. Just wait and see. No, please say most emphatically that our college bought that body, paid for it but have, upon the word of a man, never seen it, neither do they know where it is." Dr. Nicolson, dean of the faculty, was standing by and heard Dr. Johnson's remarks, and when he had completed simply said: "That is true. We don't know where the body is. It is ours and we are going to have it or make it hot for somebody. We want to make this a lesson to certain parties. I am satisfied however, I can tell just where the body as it was their property. He further denied ha

The trunk in which the body came to Atlanta is yet at Cargile's. An inspection of the baggagemaster's book who brought it to Atlanta shows that the trunk was placed on the train at Washington, Ga. The trunk is a cheap two-dollar, brown paper cover affair and was not, by the purchaser, contemplated for use again. On one end of it is written in a good plain, round hand, the word "foot," On top in one corner, was found the letters "O. Hutchins had both the talent and opportunity to make himself a leader of his race, and a worthy, respected citizen in any community. He was carefully raised in this city and given every facility for improving his mind and condition in life. He acquired quite a good education, which served to make him a sharp, ambitious young man. He followed the barber business with his father sometime, but concluded meantime to study law. He did so and became an attorney by decree of a court in South Carolina, to which state he had removed, and where, if we mistake not, he was at one time a trial justice.

Returning to Georgia a few years ago, he was, on motion of Mr. James Banks, an attorney of this city (and an intenge democrat, while Hutchins was an equally intense republican), admitted to our local bar by order of Judge Hillyer. Falling, however, of success here, he removed to Darlen, where he has figured since extensively as lawyer and politican. Now his present career is ended by his becoming a convict for betraying a pecuniary trust reposed in him by one of his clients.

Atlanta's Pride.

Mrs. Ballard's school is one of the institutions in that in which our citizens take especial pride is success in the past and its prospects for the illure are a source of great satisfaction. It is now a high wave of success and promises to, at an arry day, establish a name that will give Atlanta a rominent position in the ranks of cities that are muous as educational centers for young ladies. Its. Ballard's new school building is moving rapid-toward completion. The roof is on, and the utilding already shows that when completed it will earn orunnent to that portion of the city.

The Welcome to the Romans. Somethirty officers and privates of the Cherokee trtillery and the Light Guard, accompanied by lailes, from Rome, arrived last evening. They stopsed at the Exposition hotel, where they were welcomed by the Gate City Guard and by numerous members of the exhibitors association. At ten 'clock the grand march sounded, and the entire arty entered the dinfing room, which had been deared for a dance. At midnight a sumptuous ollation was served in the breakfast 100m.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

P. Stevens & Co., are offering special attractions day, both at their calesroom in the city and at The bangle rings at J. P. Stevens & Co.'s display are all the rage. They are solid gold and go at 6 cents, the only place in the world at which they are sold so low.

No visitor should fail to see the grand spectacular display of self-illuminating plaques which is made at the exposition by J. P. Stevens & Co. These handsome pictures are the most appropriate pieces of art that can be secured for a present.

For the accommodation of the visiting thousands J. P. Stevens & Co. will keep their elegant sales-room, 34 Whitehall street, open during the coming few weeks until 10 o'clock at night. This will be a great convenience to the public and all will be enabled thereby to pay a visit to the store and see the beautiful, magnificent and elegant goods which are there displayed.

The temperance revival meeting re there displayed.

The temperance revival meetings, conducted by fessrs. Doutney and Dwyer, have been transferred rom Good Templars hall to the old agricultural ooms, corner of Marietta and Forsyth streets. Lecures and songs will be given again this evening at his place and repeated to morrow afternoon and dght. Mr. Doutney will relate his experience in utiling aloof from the use of liquor at one of his bonday talks.

One of the Real Comforts of Life.

I never saw a garment too fine for a man or maid one was never a chair too good for a cobbler or a oper, or a king to sit in; never a house too fine to neiter a human head. These elements about us, the lorious sun, the imperial sun, are not too good for uman race. Elegance fits a man. But I had rather at my dinner off the head of a barrel, or dress after he fashion of John the Baptist in the wilderness, sit on a three-cornered stone all my life, than to edeprived of the real pleasure and solid enjoyent of smoking Blackwell's pure, mild, sweet and nadulterated cigarettes. NEW MORSE COTTON COMPRESS. The Largest and Most Powerful Compress on the Earth.

With a Lifting Power of 3000 Tons. THIRTY-FIVE have been built and erected in four years; and for this period twice as many as all other Compresses, and in the last two years five times as many as all others combined in the United States, making the investment in the Morse Fress over one million dollars in four years. 400,000 pounds of material are required for a single Compress, and only iron is used of the highest known grade. Their immense weight, strength and durability, make them in the end, the cheapest Compress in use, and the only one to meet the commercial demands of the present and future. Several of those firs built have now compressed from 400,000 to 500,000 bales cotton, without defect or perceptible wear. The have secured a density (measured in the press) of 75 pounds to the cubic foot.

A FEW CHIEF MERITS. A FEW CHIEF MERITS.

1. It is, in all respects, simplest in construction, and least liable to disorder or breakage.

2. It is a steam power, and works faster than any of the hydraulic presses and has no packings to give out, when delays, would be ruinous.

3. It has fewer points in motion, and consequently less wear and friction than any other compress.

4. Its wedge-shaped rack and cycloidal sectors secure a progressive leverage, nicely adjusted to overcome the increasing density of the bale, as the platen is brought home.

5. Its superior power has reduced freight to a minimum, and wherever located, has made the business of compress wonderfully successful, and at many interior points has doubled the receipts of cotton. New Orleans alone has nine of these mamnoth presses: Memphis, three; Honston, three: Norfolk, three; others at Mobile. Galveston, Brenham, Dallas, Fort Worth, Parls, Jefferson, Shreveport, Little Rock, Vicksburg, Meridian, Columbus, (Miss.,) Selma, Wilminton, West Point, Va., Rome and St. Louis, and one may be seen daily at work in this city, (Atlanta.) Two of these men entered the humble dwelling, seized the younger of the two sisters, a girl 16 years old, and canied her out into the woods. The others seized the other sister and carried her also into the woods. With lustful heart the eight men ravished the younger of the two sis ters, and four of them not satisfied with their ban deed violated the person of the other sister. After finishing their hellish work they went to the dwelling and set fire to it, and in a moment the whole building was in flames. The aged grandmother tottered out, walked a few yards and fell insensible to the earth. She was found several hours later in a dying condition. Columbus Enquirer.

Yesterday a prominent citizen of this city called an Enquirer-Suu reporter, and pointing to a woman said: "That her's was a sad story and something ought to be done about it." The reporter, in order to learn the story from the woman herself, walked up to where she was standing. She appears to be about twenty years of age, and is good-looking rather than otherwise. About two years ago she married John Watson and moved to Texas. Tring of life in the west they came back to Alabama and located near Alexander City, where Watson rented a farm. They were living happily, so far as she knew, until a few days ago her husband deserted her, carrying with him their two children, one a girl seventeen months of age and the other a boy three months old. She states that there is no cause known to her why he should have thus treated her. They had no quarrel, and she had no idea that he entertained any thought of leaving her.

She learned that he was in this city and determined to follow him in order to get her little children. When she arrived here she was informed that he had gone to Worth county, and is at this time not very far from Albany. Being without funds, she had made arrangements to work in the factory unit she could be able to prosecute her search. She yesterday was given some money by some gentlemen, and she may change her mind and continue her search at once. She was very well dressed, but apologized for her appearance by stating that she left home in haste and expecting to return immediately, brought no clothing with her. She bears an honest face, and while it is exceedingly hard to distinguish between imposters and those who are worthy of charity, she relates her story is one who is telling the truth. Attention of the officers was called to her case yesterday, and they may he able to find her deserting husband and secure the babies.

Burglary in Reynolds is not very profitable, as a nerro man named Richard Lockett learned to his cost. On Tuesday night he entered the warehouse at that place and attempted to rob the safe. He had with him a cold chizel, hammer, crowbar and a full supply of burglar's tools. The noise he made attracted the attention of a gentleman, who investigated the matter to find the cause. Seeing the burglar at work, he collected a number of the city had previously authorized, and among these legitimate uses of the common as the city had previously authorized, and among these legitimate uses is the permission or grant to devote part thereof to railroad purpose of capturing him. As soon as Lockett found that his exploits were discovered he attempted to escape. As he ran out of the house he was shot by Mr. Matthews, the ball taking effect in his arm. This was ouly a flesh wound and did not succeed in stopping him, and, if anything, made him run the taster. Seeing that he was about to make his escape, a young man named Waters fired at him with better success. The ball struck him in the abdomen and he fell in his tracks, bleeding profusely. Our informant states that the wounded man was having internal hemorhages and that no was entertained for his receivery. In fact he was thou at to be dying when the train left that place.

erday in the City-What was Done and Said by Bone-Folks and Strangers-The Gossip of the Town as Taken on the Fly--In and About the Courts and Departments.

ALE RIGHT AGAIN.—Mr. George Haney, chief of the Atlanta fire department, is rapidly recovering from the injuries received Thursday night at the fire on foundry street.

STEALING AN AX.—Albert Green, a negro boy, was esterday calaboosed for larceny. Albert, it is algoed, stole an ax from an aged negro who supports inself by wood-chopping.

ARRESTED.—Jack Robinson was arrested by Officer Heary Starnes, yesterday. Officer Starnes was hunting for a pickpocket, and after shadowing Robinson some time became convinced that he needed protection.

An Honest Person.—Wm. Cato, one of the Kimball notice dining room servants: found a pocket-book containing quite a sum of money, and instead of uppropriating the same to his own use, diffigently ought the owner until success crowned his work, and then returned the purse and its contents.

ALABAMA BELLES.—The Exposition hotel is just now the home of many ladies from all over the intou, who are visiting the exposition. Among he most beautiful and charming visitors are Misses for Askew, Ida Smith, Etta Key, Alice Smith, elle Houston, Mary Battilla and Jessie McCaa, of lontgomery, Ala.

MARRIED.—Thursday morning at the residence of Mrs. C. G. Trent, 198, Peachtre street, Mr. George Thompson, of Lyachburg, Va., the Miss Jennie Kelley, of Petersburg, Va. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Hornady, of the Third Baptist church, in the presence of a few friends of the contracting parties.

RATHER DANGEROUS,—Out on Marietta street, near Bartow, there is in front of a building an old porch, which has no support, and which is held in its place simply by the nails which are driven into the wall. The porch is liable to fall at any moment and the Marietta street pedestrian would do well to watch while he walks.

Another Entereise.—In the Fulton superior court yesterday, Judge Billyer, presiding, "the Pylant turbine manufacturing company" was made a body corporate. The petition for the incorporation was signed by T. 8 Pylant, Edward Pylant, M. J. Ivy, and others, and states that the capital stock of the company shall be $10,000.

WARNED.—The officials have at last openly admitted that Atlanta is infested by a band of pick-pockets, and as an effort to destroy their work have had large placards posted on the walls in and about the car shed. The letters are large and readily attract the attention of the traveler. This should have been done long ago.

Shooting on Forsyth Street.—About dark las night Officer Rapp escorted an eighteen year old boy to Dr. Rosch's officer for medical aid. A few seconds before meeting the officer the negro wa shot in the arm by an unknown person. The ball-entered near the shoulder and ran along the arm to near the elbow, where it made an exit. The shooting occurred near Taylor's livery stable.

SENT TO JAIL—Mait Patty was yesterday arraign ed before Judge Tanner for a preliminary tria upon a warrant charging him with larceny. The complainant was Mr. M. Rich, who alleged that the accused entered his residence and tole a fine cigar cast. The evidence adduced sustained the charge and being unable to give bond, Patty went to jail FOUND GULLY,—The Fulton superior court yesterday disposed of several criminal cases. Jesse Chapman was found guilty upon the charge of an assault to commit burgiary, James Young was adjudged guilty of burgiary, and James Stewart was sentenced to nine months in the chain gang for larceny from the house.

MASHED HAND.—Frank Jemison, a colored man employed in the Western and Atlantic yards, had his left hand badly crushed yesterday morning. He was engaged coupling cars, when his hand was caught between the bumpers. The hand was so scriously mashed that it was found necessary, to amputate the thumb and fore finger.

The Review.—The petition of Henry W. Grady, P Hanby, C R Miller, J W Ryckman, E Branard M W R Bolch for the incorporation of the Industrial Review publishing company was presented in the superior court yesterday, and ordered to be reorded. The petition represents the fact that $60,000 vill be the capital stock, and that the offices will be a Atlanta and New York.

A BAD RUNAWAY—A horse attached to a spring wagon yesterday afternoon took fright on Decatur street, near the Willingham building, and made a rapid run towards the Air-Line depot. A child who was sitting in the wagon was thrown out near Calhoun street and badly injured. The horse was stopped near Buchanan's store, but not until the wagon had been made a total wreck.

A MURDEROUS ASAULT.—Jim Copeland yesterday requested the aid of the police in arresting Ike Morris, who, he alleges, made a desperate and murderous assault upon him at his home near the barrawks Friday night. Copeland stated that Morris broke open his house, and after knocking him down with an ax handle, attempted to cut his throat with razor, but was prevented by the interference of ersons present.

GRAVE CHARGE.—Officer Reid yesterday arrested Charles Moore and Missouri Johnson, against whom he brings the charge of larceny. A few nights ago aguest of the Cannon house was robbed of quite a sun of money. The case was placed in Officer Reid's hands, and after a carefut investigation he became satisfied that Charles Moore and Missouri folmson were accountable for the robbery. They were both engaged at the Cannon house and had access to the room.

The Work of the Law.—With Judge Hillyer presiding yesterday the suit for a divorce by Edwin Roberts vs. Sidney Roberts was concluded with a verdiet for the plaintiff. In the matter of B. Strickland, administrator, vs. TS Garner et al., an order to bear motion for a new trial in vacation was taken. Howard Horton was granted a divorce from Mattie Horton. An order instructing Receiver Green to pay J. N. Landrum and others, clerks for Hook & smith, their salaries was passed.

Going Home.—Yesterday a gentleman reached Atlanta from California by the Western and Atlantic railroad. He was a tall, well-built man with snow white hair and beard and was en route to southern Alabama. When the Mexican war began he was a young boy, living in Alabama, but with hundreds of others went to the front after the dighting began. After the war he went to California, where he engaged in mining, and where he has since lived, and where he has grown wealthy. This is his first visit to his old home where his father still resides. Although nearly sixty-nine years of age Mr. Mark Thornton, as he represents himself to be, says that he will yet live to make another visit to Alabama.

Lost His Money.—Yesterday morning a gentleman from Montgomery, Ala., informed Chief Connolly that he had been robbed at the opera house the night before of a pocket-book containing about one hundred dollars in money and a lot of valuable papers. He said that he was satisfied that the man who sat next to him was responsible for his loss. He described the suspected individual and requested the shief said in catching him. About noon he again appeared at police headquarters and stated to the chief that he had just met the man he suspected and said that when they met the stranger said: "What's the matter? You look just like a man who had lost something." This remark confirmed the robbed man's suspicion and his second visit to police headquarters was the result, but when he and the officer went in search of the wanted party he could not be found.

THAT THEY SAY—The grand jury for the fall term the Fulton superior court yesterday completed fit work and were discharged. Before being dis-aged, however, they submitted the following houses, but also to those owning the buildings in which the gaming is carried on.

"That we recommend the county commissioners to have that part of the Jonesboro road abutting on the property of Mrs. J. M. C. Reid, where a "fill" was made, macadamized as early as possible, it being of vital importance to the city of Atlanta that the road leading to the water-works should be always in good and passable condition.

"That we tender our thanks to his honor, Judge Hillyer, and to the able and energetic solicitor, Mr. B. H. Hill, Jr., for their uniform courtesy shown us by them."

BUILDING AND REAL ESTATE NOTES—Treasure: Speer's Peachtree house, now building, will be one of the handsomest houses on the street. The demand for houses and building lots was never as active as at present. The architects say that.

Colonel George N. Lester, of Marietta, has pur-chased the residence of Colonel B. F. Abbott, and will make this city his home in the future. Mr. Hamphries, architect, is preparing plans for a beautiful house for Mr. Jack Johnson, to be built on Peachtree on one of the old Luckie lots. Mr. Humphries says it will not be a large house, but, full of all the modern beauties and conventores.

Notes on the Fly.—Is there going to be no let up in the price of provisions? Governor Colquitt has gone to New York for a nick trip. He will be absent about a week.

Mr. Robert Barry says he didn't take any interest in the late election, preferring not to go into a scramble. He says, however, if the opponents of the cow-law would like to make a trial test of the matter, he has a mind to take the held one year from now as the cow-law candidate, and rustle around a bit with any man put up in opposition to it. Colonel Bob is a wheel-horse when he turns in, and if this race is made up it will be a lively one.

Every intelligent observer must admit that with our progress in many respects, the women of our country, especially at the south, are greatly deficient in physical capacity and endurace. All know that womanhood must be very imperfect without vigorous health and strong moral purpose, and we do not think that any of our daughters and mothers of ordinary intelligence can read this book without having a desire to perfect themselves in all the strength and beauty of womanhood, and without making efforts in that direction.

Nature's-Sluice Way.

The kidneys are nature's sluice-way to wash out the debris of our constantly changing bodies. If they do not work properly the trouble is felt everywhere. Then be wise and as soon as you see signs of disorder get a package of Kidney-Wort and take it faithfully. It will clean the sluice-way of sand, gravel or stone and purify the whole system. Druggists sell it, both liquid and dry, and it is equally efficient in either form.—Independent.

SAVED FROM A HORRIBLE DEATH

Two years ago I contracted the horrible disease, and up to May last had spent $500 for treatment by the best medical men without any benefit, on the contrary, I grew worse. My mouth and throat becoming badly ulcerated, sores breaking out on my neck and legs. I also suffered exeruciatingly with Rheumatism, growing very d∈spondent, and my best friends advised me that the icy hand of death was fast approaching, and indeed I felt such to be the case. This was my condition in May last. (I caught at S. S. S. proaching, and indeed I felt such to be the case. This was my body feel a great change for the better. The like a drowning man at a straw. After taking two bottles I could feel a great change for the better. The sores began to discharge freely and the Rheumatism to abate. When I had taken is bottles every sore had healed, my skin began to assumed a natural appearance. I persisted in the use of S.S.S. until I had taken healed, my skin began to assumed a natural appearance. I persisted in the use of S.S.S. until I had taken twelve bottle AND THERE IS NOT A SYMPTOM OF THE DISEASE REMAINING, and I feel as well as Tever did. I have gained 21 pounds in flesh and my friends wonder at my improved condition. I have recommended it to many and in every instance with complete success. I believe that S. S. S. has saved me from a horrible death, and wish I could induce every sufferer to do as I have done-take S. S.

A Bold Operator.

When our friend and liberal patron, John Keely, announced some time since that he was the possessor of thousands of cloaks, we thought he was like the man who, when pretending to practice medicine, and failing to properly diagnose a case, administered certain powders with the remark: "Give him that, it will throw him into fits, and I am great on fits." We say like him—because friend Keely seemed about to throw everything into cloaks, in the belief that he was "great" on cloaks: but, now, when within two weeks of Christmas we see with our own eyes, literally thousands of cloaks being opened at his store, we are, indeed, convinced that friend Keely must know what he is doing, that "he is great indeed on cloaks." His sales in cloaks on Friday amounted to three hundred and thirteen garments, and while engaged in marking off this last "irruption," as he very aptly terms I, he sold fifty of those beautiful misses' cloaks, before the task of marking off was concluded. We honestly believe that Captain Keely has carried off the palm as to sales during the exposition sesson, and we predict for him so long as he caters so well to the public taste, and to the public "pocket-book" an hourly increasing trade. Who meets a request for the exchange of an article, so kindly and who responds so quickly, as Keely? One is sure of polite and reliable attention in his store, and he admits no trash into his stock. The volume of his stock has utterly astonished, as well as its very beautiful variety has delighted thousands of visitors from the large cities of the north, who with one accord, proclaim John Keely's to be "the metropolitantsore." Conducted as it is upon business principals, and managed with a hand which shows experience in its every stroke, the public cannot fail to see how clearly it is to their advantage to call and examine this "truption, of cloaks." at Captain Keely's store. See notice on last page.

There is now no excuse for using hog's lard. Refined cotton seed oil is a pure vegetable oil—wholesome and delicate. It is better for biscuit and frying purposes than laro, not scorching so easily. It is good as butter for cake. It is much cheaper. Retail price 75 tents per gallon, or 10 cents per pound. One pound goes much farther than a pound of lard. There are 7½ pounds of oil in a gallon, which, at 75 cents per gallon, would be 10 cents per pound. There are 7½ pounds of oil in a gallon, which, at 75 cents per gallon, would be 10 cents per pound. There are now in this city seeking employment three men from Moravia, stout, ablebodied and young. Two of them are single and the other has a wife and a child five years of age. They appear to be steady, sober and industrious, and would, we think, give good satisfaction, especially for farming purposes. Here is an opportunity to encourage immigration and at the same time do good These immigrants cost the state nothing. For particulars apply to the mayor of the city.
